If you want to better understand your horse, or need to help your horse’s ground manners, whether it’s leading, “close walking”, lunging, spooking, or trailer loading (or a myriad of other issues), Mark can help you and your horse. He has a kind, horse-centric, common-sense approach that works.

Mark is also a very experienced riding instructor who works with high-level dressage riders and eventers. He has coached U.S. riders at national and international competitions including at the Pan-Am games in Rio de Janeiro, at Wellington, and elsewhere around the globe.
